The festival given by the ladies of the Episcopal Church last Friday evening was a very pleasant affair. The lawn in front of Mr. C. W. Miss Maggie Evans reigned Queen, while Miss Daisy Brown, assisted by several young "Gipsies" dispensed "fortunes" to the "curious," belles and beaux who thronged the tent, anxious to know what the future held in store for them. Alonch the weather was unpleasantly cool for an open-air entertainment, still there was a fair crowd out. The proceeds were about forty dollars, which will be devoted to some church purpose.

Judge Norton overrules all of the grounds, and decides that he has not power to review the judgment of the County Commissioners; that they have a right to relieve the Treasurer's doubts as to what funds he should pay a check, by directing what fund it should be paid out of, and that the law requiring the Treasurer to be notified of the drawing of the checks, refers to notice after drawing of the checks, and not before or at the time of drawing. Judge Norton requires the County Treasurer to pay the check. This case settles an important question, and one in which the people of the County, and especially those holdings claims against the County, are much interested.

Opening the Old Corner Stone.

Last Friday morning the corner stone of Last Friday morning the corner stone of the old Masonic building was taken from its position and opened by the present Worshipful Master of Hiram Lodge, Mr. R. S. Hill. Quite a number of our citizens had gathered at the building, and before moving the stone from its position Grand Master Divver made a few appropriate remarks, and announced that it was the custom of the Masonic fraternity to take up a collection on such occasions for some chartom of the Masonic fraterinty to take up a collection on such occasions for some charitable object. The collection on this occasion, he said, would be for the benefit of the workmen who were injured while at work on the building a few days before. The stone was then removed to Messrs. Ligon & McGee's store, where it was opened. Every one who came in to look at it was asked to make a contribution, and about fifteen dollars was collected.

This corner stone was laid on Friday, October 12th, 1855, but there is no record f what was placed in it. It was not airtight, consequently everything in the re-ceptable, except a silver plate and ten sil-ver coins, had crumbled to dust. None of the coins were very old, the dates running from 1834 to 1853. Among the coins were an old-fashioned seven pence and a Spanish quarter-the latter equal to about three cents of our money. The plate bore the cents of our money. The plate bore the following inscription:

"Erected by Hiram Lodge, No. 68, A. F. M., A. L. 5855, A. D. 1855. Building commenced October 12th. Alfred Price, Grand Master, Grand Lodge, S. C. F. E. Harrison, W. M.; S. H. Langston, S. W.; J. B. dend, except Mr. John T. Sloan, who is now a resident of Columbia, S. C. It is proposed to replace this stone in the new building, and a new corner stone will be laid on top of it as soon as the walls are ready.

In speaking of the laying of the old corner stone, the old Anderson Gazette and Advocate, under date of October 17, 1855,

On last Friday the laying of the Corner Stone of the new Masonic Edifica about to be crected in this town by the members of Hiram Lodge, was celebrated with appro-priate honors and ceremonies. At 10 O'clock, a. m., the members of Hiram Lodge, accompanied by large delegations from the Abbeville, Cokesbury, Due West, Williamston, Greenville and Pendleton Lodges, marched in procession through the public square, under the direction of the Marshal, W. H. D. Gaillard, to the site of the building. The fraternity having formed the building. The fraternity having formed a hollow square, an appropriate prayer was offered up by the Rev. T. S. Moore was then introduced and proceeded to deliver a most forcible and glowing address corner was suited to the corner. dress, every way suited to the occasion.
Although Maj. Moore had but a short time to prepare his address, it filled the mouths of all present with praise. With a master-terly hand he sketched the rise and progress of Masonry; portrayed in vivid language its days of persecution and prosperity, and vindicated the noble principles and benefi-

We hope to be able to lay before our readers, an address so replete with glowing thoughts and so many evidences of a strong and well cultivated mind. The Rev. T. S. Arthur was next introduced, and eloquently vindicated Masonry from the charge, that it attempted to usurp the office of the Church, and also proved that the Order imposed no obligations that the Order imposed no obligations of the Church, and also proved that the Order imposed no obligations of the Church, and also proved that the Order imposed no obligations of the Church, and also proved that the Order imposed no obligations of the Church and the Church an upon its members that at all conflicted with their obligations to the Government, to Society, or to the Church. The Pic Nie at Cooley's Bridge Last Saturday will not soon be forgotten by the good people of the eastern side of the County, that day having been set apart for the annual pic nic at Cooley's Bridge, on Saluda River. We had received several very pressing invitations to be present, and remembering how well we had been treated on a former similar occasion over there, we determined to go. Being rather a long drive, we decided to go part of the way Friday afternoon. Accordingly that afternoon, in company with Judge Cox, we drove to Belton and spent the night under the hospitable roof of Maj. G. W. Cox. That evening we attended a mos pleasant sociable at the residence of Capt Stringer, where the beauty and gallantry of Belton had gathered to spend a few pleasant hours. Our host and hostess, with their charming daughter, Miss Eva, left nothing undone that would tend to increase the pleasures of the gay party, and the only regret of the evening was that the hours were not long enough.

Early Saturday morning we drove out to Cooley's Bridge, and were cordially wel-comed by Mr. J. M. Cox, one of the proprietors of the mills, who with his pleasant, cheerful words of greeting, always takes great pleasure in making these gatherings at his place as pleasant as possible. When we arrived the people were coming in from every direction, and by 10 o clock the grounds were literally alive with happy, joyous faces, of both sexes, and of all sizes and ages, all bouyant with pleasant anticipations. Anderson, Greenville, Laurens and Abbeville Counties were all largely and Abbevine Counties were all largely represented, and the crowd in attendance was perhaps the largest that has ever gathered at a social pic nic in Anderson County, being variously estimated at from fifteen hundred to two thousand persons.

tier or more appropriate place for a pic nic. Messrs. Cox and Dugan had done everything possible for the comfort and convenience of the expected crowd. Across the west prong of the River they had erected a foot bridge to the beautiful, shady island, which contains about six acres. On the island numerous seats had een erected, and under a stand the above named gentlemen were prepared to accom-modate the crowd with lemonade, milk shakes, cigars, etc.

The day was bright and clear, but exceedingly cool for the season of year, and white dresses and linen coats were not very comfortable. The crowd was soon scattered all over the island, and on both sides of the river, and here and there a courting couple could be seen making good use of the time. Over at the mill the merry dancers had assembled, and throughout the day they kept time to the music of the About 1 o'clock the dinner baskets were

are wont to do, and it was late before the crowd began to disperse. The occasion was one of general enjoyment throughout, and the best of order prevailed. It would be hard to find a more sociable or hospitable crowd, or more prettier young ladies, than was assembled there. Messrs. Cox and Dugan deserve all the praise they received for the excellent manner in which they managed the pic nic, and to them we are especially indebted for many courtesies shown us. Late in the afternoon, in company with our jovial friend, Mr. E. H. Poore, we drove to the residence of Mrs. Ann Matti-son, near Calhoun, where we took tea, after which we went to the home of Mr. Hob. Griffin, where a number of young people had assembled to spend a pleasant evening. Every one present felt tired from the festivities of the day, but this did not
