HISTORY OF HARMONY BAPTIST CHURCH

East Chester County

South Carolina

By: Frel M. Johnstone

Harmony Church is in the northeastern part of Chester County, one mile from the York County line on what was once known as the Yorkville-Lancaster Highway. On September 11, 1839 a presbytery consisting of the Reverends James M. Thomas, D. Duncan and William Perry, organized the church, dismissed by letter from Hopewell Baptist and Catawba Baptist churches. Many were added weekly and soon had a membership of more than one hundred.

The old house where Harmony was organized was built many years before and was known as the Republican Church and they continued to worship in it until 1853.

In 1840 their first call was made to Rev. J. M. Thomas, which he accepted, and these deacons were chosen: S. M. McFadden, Robert McFadden, Joseph Ferguson, and the first clerk was Abijah Pittman, and the first deacon was John Pittman.

Mr. Thomas resigned after serving one year. A call was made in 1841 to Rev. William Perry who served two years. Rev. Pritchard came next and served for one year.

Rev. E. Ray served through the year of 1844 and Rev. William Perry came back and served through 1844-1847, and at this time W. P. Broach was elected church clerk.

In 1848 the members of Harmony Church called a meeting to get a pastor. A call was made to Rev. W. Guinn; he accepted and filled the pulpit for one year. He was succeeded by Rev. Nulen in 1849. He resigned and in 1850 was succeeded by Rev. J. A. Hill. He served the church as pastor for nine years and at this time a new church was planned. A building committee was called and was composed of Dr. A. I. Smith, Dr. Blake, Henry D. Culp, Ira Ferguson, Green Ferguson, Amos Nunnery and James Lee. The land which consisted of four acres was donated by John Rives (1775-1839).

The contract for the new church was given to Major Caudor

McFadden for the sum of $800.00. He was made treasurer, which position he held capably and exceedingly well. He was a Christian veteran and afterwards joined the church; he became a useful and influential member. He resigned this position in 1893 and was succeeded by Robert McFadden.

In 1859 Rev. C. C. Vaughn was called to preach once a month and in 1861 he began to preach twice a month. While holding this pastorate he married Miss Bettie Nunnery, sister of Joseph Nunnery of Wylies Mill section. Mr. Vaughn insisted very strongly that a Sunday School should be organized and it was begun in the year of 1861; the teachers were Miss Mary Rowell, Barbara Nunnery, Eugenia Waters and Joseph Nunnery.

Mr. Vaughn resigned because of bad health and was succeeded by Rev. Golden from 1863 to 1864. Then came Rev. A. L. Staugh, a Dutchman and Catholic who became a Protestant. Rev. R. H. Griffith served as pastor from 1872-1876.

Rev. J. H. Eager was pastor in 1876;
Rev. L. C. Hinton in 1877,
Rev. J. Hartwell Edwards in 1878,
Rev. A. P. Pugh 1884-1885,

The past history of Harmony congregation can not but inspire the present members into redoubled zeal and determination to go forward and carry on the good work for the Kingdom of God, and live their lives by precept and example for the benefit of the younger people and generations to come.

It will no doubt fill the heart of the present congregation with devout gratitude to Almighty God who during these many years, has been so gracious to them.

There are a number of things which mark the progress which a people have made in civilization. One of these things is the graveyard--the place where the bodies of the dead are laid away. The semi-savage may say, "I care not what becomes of my body when I die", but the pious of all generations have had a desire, like the old patriarchs, to be buried with their fathers. The manner in which the spot is kept in which sleeps the dust of departed friends is no uncertain index of the character of the living. He who can trample on or neglect the graves of his ancestors must have a heart dead to all the tender instincts of human nature.

In Harmony Church Cemetery you will find graves of people from all walks of life, and all of them are from remarkable families for one reason or another, and these many good reasons constitute the stability of any community.

The people of Harmony Church community were brave and confident; their teaching zealous; and their style simple and emphatic. Their commanding presence bold and frank, they moved with evident consciousness of a rectitude of purpose and a sense of duty active and dauntless. They never lost an opportunity to advance any cause they espoused and they never, under any circumstance, deterred from the discharge of their duties to their church or community.

I have copied to the best of my ability the/names of all who have monuments or markers in Harmony Church Cemetery up to May 25, 1952, and the following list can not be absolutely perfect because it was a Herculean task to undertake--especially for one person:

> "Grow old along with me The best is yet to be, The last of life for which the first was made: Our times are in his hand Who saith, "A whole I planned, Youth shows but half; Trust God: See all, nor be afraid."
